N°. 513.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

FROM OCTOBER 5. TO OCTOBER 12. 1738.

Dear NED, Auguſt 10. 1738.

IT is a moſt unſpeakable Comfort and Eaſe to my Mind, that I have not as yet intermixt the leaſt Grain of Satyr, in what I have wrote you concerning the Reformers and Directors of this Commonwealth. I am very ſenſible, that the true and natural Way of treating the ridiculous Subject, is by Deriſion; but then it would have afflicted any tender Conſcience, not to have handled ſo ſerious a one as this, with all proper Gravity and Decorum. I muſt own indeed, ſince it cannot well be doubted, that now and then a ſudden melancholy Damp comes upon me, at the Reflection of having given ſo much Pain to theſe my Maſters, by offending their Modeſty, even ſo much, that, as I am told, they have ſomtimes bluſhed at the Encomiums I have very deſervedly beſtowed upon them: But I make no Doubt, that in their retired Conſultations, the unavoidable Neceſſity of the Caſe, will ſufficiently plead my Pardon with them. Who could refrain, without a Self-Denial too powerful for human Nature, from celebrating the deep and profound Schemes of the Firſt, the inimitable Graces and Energy of Eloquence in the Second, and the wiſe and prudent Changes of the Third, founded in this unchangeable Maxim, that the greateſt Glory of a Man, is to acknowledge himſelf in an Error? Who could forbear breaking out into Admiration at the happy Conjunction of all Three, whereby the perhaps too rigid Stiffneſs and Reſolution of the Firſt, is corrected by the lucky Variableneſs of the Third, between which comes in the reconciling Cunning of the Second, to make ſuch a Compoſition, as muſt needs tend to the univerſal Improvement of Mankind? Bleſt Politicks! what Wonders cannot ye perform? To knead together and compound ſuch diſagreeing and oppoſite Materials; to cauſe antient Grudges to be forgot, and the moſt ſupercilious Contempts to be overlooked; to make dogmatical Pride ſtoop to low Cunning; to fix Volatility it ſelf; to lay Envy aſleep, and diſarm Revenge of all her Stings, ſo as to make them live together in one Houſe with undoubted Amity and Friendſhip; in a Word, to reduce all the unruly Paſſions to the Dominion of that of Intereſt alone, is ſurely the Opus magnum of the preſent Age; and happy am I! to be the Inſtrument of tranſmitting ſuch an Example to lateſt Poſterity. As I make no Doubt therefore but I have already, and ſhall hereafter receive all due Praiſe from thoſe candid and gentle Readers, to whom you ſhall participate theſe Letters, I ſhall with Cheerfulneſs proceed in this Undertaking ſo auſpiciouſly begun and ſo fortunately executed.

I am now ſat down further to give full Scope and play to my Inclination and Talent for Panegyrick; altho' ſure I am, that the utmoſt Strength and Force I can ſum up, will not carry me, even thro' a faint Deſcription of the Nature and Proceedings of Our High Court of Juſtice. A Court, no leſs dignified with Title, than armed with Power; a Court, ſo exactly conformable to the Bleſſed Engliſh Conſtitution, that if no other Inſtance could be found, this alone would ſuffice to prove us to be, the chief Honour and Happineſs of Engliſhmen, and the Envy of other Nations. In ſhort, a Court, ſo well adapted to the Temper and Genius of true Engliſhmen, and ſo happily calculated for the Security of our Properties and Eſtates, that to no better Cauſe, can we, without the higheſt Ingratitude, attribute our preſent flouriſhing Circumſtances, than to it's unerring and impartial Decrees, under ſo diſcerning and uncorrupt a Judge.

You may remember, that in my firſt Letter I attempted to give you ſome imperfect Idea of the happy Regulation of our Courts of Law, by comparing them to thoſe of the neareſt Reſemblance in Weſtminſter-Hall. I am obliged, upon this Occaſion, to uſe the ſame Method, for to attempt to give you a naked Deſcription of this under our preſent Conſideration, without Similitude or Relation to ſome other, with which you are acquainted, would be no better, than an Endeavour to paint Colours upon the Imagination of a Man born blind. You muſt not expect however, but that this will greatly fail, ſince our Refinements of Equity, as well as our Improvements in the Law, are ſuch, as no Age, no Hiſtory, no Country can parallel.

Suppoſe then, that the Lord of one of our Manors in Northumberland, greatly retiring from the Delights and Pleaſures of the Court, ſhould take a long and irkſome Journey, to inſpect into the Condition, the Revenues and the Rents of his Eſtate. That upon his arrival there, having as yet received but few Notions or Impreſſions, but thoſe of PREROGATIVE, he ſhould by the Advice of his Steward, attended with one hungry Court Flatterer, and another trimming Time-Server, in the Plenitude of his Power, iſſue out his Proclamation or Proclamations to this or the like Effect.

" Whereas We are informed by our Truſty and well-be-
" loved Counſellors, and are Ourſelves fully ſatisfied of the " Truth thereof, that the great Grandfathers, Grandfathers,
" and Fathers of Many of Our Tenants, tho' they became
" Adventurers into this Our Manor at the great Peril of " their Lives and Fortunes, were notwithſtanding a moſt
" unrighteous Generation, and did moſt wickedly de-
" fraud US of great Part of OUR Lands, by leading a-
" ſtray ſome, and impoſing by falſe and fraudulent Allega-
" tions upon others of Our own Officers; And whereas their
" Deſcendants, no better than their ſaid Forefathers, do
" now, altho' thereto often moſt graciouſly required, de-
" lay and neglect to make Us any Satisfaction for the ſame,
" fooliſhly inſiſting upon the expreſs Words of their Leaſes,
" the Antientneſs of their Titles, and the Length of their
" Poſſeſſions, notwithſtanding the well known Maxim of
" Nullum tempus occurrit - - -

" We do therefore hereby promulge and declare, that it
" is Our Will and Pleaſure, that all Our ſaid Tenants with-
" in - - - from the Date hereof, at their own Coſts, and at
" ſuch Charges as We ſhall think proper to be allowed
" Our own Officers, for the doing and performing all things
" hereby required to be done, do ſurrender their old Lea-
" ſes to ſuch of Our Officers as ſhall be lawfully authorized
" and appointed to accept the ſame; which being done,
" proper Powers and Authorities ſhall be granted by Our
" ſaid Officers, to limit and aſcertain the Quantities of Land
" contained in the ſaid Leaſes; and upon the Payment

" into

" into Our Exchequer of all such Sums of Money as their " Forefathers ought to have paid to Our Anceſtors for " the ſaid detained Lands, with the Intereſt thereof, from " the Time ſuch Payment ought to have been made; and " alſo all Arrears of Rent, which ought to have been paid " as aforeſaid, Then We do command the proper Officers " herein concerned, in Our Name to make new Leaſes of " the ſaid detained Lands, under ſuch Rents as are now re- " ſerved in Our ſaid Manor; and under ſuch Conditions, " Penalties and Proviſoes, as We by Our Inſtructions to Our " ſaid Officers ſhall order, direct and appoint; and upon " Failure in any of the ſaid Premiſſes, We do hereby in " Our great Condeſcenſion publickly notify, that We will " cauſe all the Leaſes of Our delinquent Tenants to be " brought before Our Steward of Our ſaid Manor, whom " for this Purpoſe We have appointed Our Judge in Our " High Court of Juſtice, there to be made void and of none " Effect; requiring Our ſaid Tenants to take the premiſſes " into their moſt ſerious Conſideration, and timely to pre- " vent the Effects of ſuch a Proceeding, whereby they will " not only be deprived of the ſaid detained Lands, but " alſo of ſuch as their Anceſtors have paid for, beſides the " Coſts attendant thereon, it being Our well known Prerogative, " to pay no Coſts, tho' the ſame may be decreed to Us. " And for the Encouragement of ſuch of Our faithful Te- " nants, who ſhall be inclined to regard Our Intereſt more " then the Peace and Quiet of their Neighbours, We do " hereby engage and promiſe, that every Diſcoverer and " Diſcoverers of ſuch detained Lands, after making at " their own Coſts and Charges the ſame appear to be frau- " dulently, wickedly and unjuſtly concealed from Us, ſhall " have and enjoy the ſame, and all Our Right and Intereſt " therein, when the ſame ſhall be decreed to Us in Our ſaid " High Court of Juſtice, and not before. And whereas it " may in ſome few Inſtances have happened, that thro' " Ignorance, Accident or the Confuſion of antient Times, " ſome Leaſes were then granted for leſs Land then was " thereby intended or expreſſed to be granted, We do here- " by in Our great Juſtice further promiſe and engage to " make ample Satisfaction for ſuch Defect, to ſuch of Our " Tenants as ſhall make the ſame appear to Our Satisfac- " tion, and ſhall have in Our Judgment a lawful Right " to the ſame, according to the Directions and Inſtructions " We ſhall hereafter give to Our proper Officers for that " End and Purpoſe. Given at Our Manſion-houſe this --- " Day of --- &c. ---

Let us yet a little further, ſuppoſe the Steward of this Manor to be a Perſon of undoubted Honour and Integrity; no leſs by Principle faithful to his Truſt, than by Education obedient to the Commands of his Superior; of the moſt acute Judgment in finding out proper Inſtruments, of the moſt penetrating Sagacity in contriving the Manner, and of Fortitude equal to either in compleating the Execution of any Scheme; and let us add to all this, his great Experience in the Tricks and Rogueries of Mankind, the better to enable him to be a Detector of Frauds, a Redreſſor of Injuries, a Righter of Wrongs; and a greater Hero in the Atchievements of Politicks, than ever Don Quixote was, in thoſe of Arms and Chivalry.

Thus qualified, thus endowed by Art and Nature, let him be intruſted with the ſupream Direction and Superintendency of all the Lands, Rents and Revenues whatſoever of the ſaid Manor; with full and ample Inſtructions to ſearch and pry into defective Titles; to tender Compoſitions for the ſame, and in Caſe of refuſal to order ſuch Proſecution, as he ſhould think moſt proper to deter others from the like Delinquencies; and in ſhort, to let ſlip no Advantage whatſoever for the Benefit of his Conſtituent, always remembring by whoſe Bounty he is paid, and how ſoon and ſudden, and by whoſe Authority his Stewardſhip may be ended.

Now then can it be denied without the greateſt Perverſeneſs; that ſuch a Perſon, ſo impowered, ſo inſtructed, ſo diſcerning and knowing in all the Affairs of the Manor, ought to be armed with Judicial Authority, to fulfil the Ends of ſuch a Proclamation? on the one Hand, to reward with the ſtricteſt Juſtice the kind and generous Invitations in it, and on the other to temper it's Threats and Menaces with Lenity and Acts of Favour. Who can but admire to ſee, and rejoice to feel the concurring Bleſſings, ſpringing from the ſame beautiful Syſtem of Juriſprudence, the ſame happy Polity, that where the Regiſter may be Advocate, the Steward may be Judge, to ſit ſole, without any Interruption from Collaterals, and under no Reſtraint of any Laws, but thoſe of his own Conſcience? Unhappy Greece and Rome! Boaſt not of thy Solons, thy Lycurguſſes, thy Juſtinians; their mighty Volumes of Inſtitutes, Codexes and Pandects are found light in the Ballance with this One State Arcanum; this infallible Political Noſtrum, that the Truſtee for one of the contending Parties will make the moſt impartial Judge between both. Thy eternal Feuds and Wranglings prove the weak Improvidence of thy Legiſlators, whilſt we, free from the Miſery and Calamities of Contentions and Diſturbances, enjoy the deſirable Effects of humble and ſincere Inſtances for Peace, without any other Compliment than a grateful acknowledgment of our Lord's Care and Regard to our Welfare, in providing ſuch Advocates for us, and ſuch Judges for himſelf. 'Tis to theſe happy Days Fate hath reſerved the hitherto unthought of Union between JUSTICE and INTEREST. We now ſee them Walking Hand in Hand over Land, bleſſing our Lord with the Gratification of his Deſires, and the People with a prudent Denial of theirs, to the equal Peace and Proſperity of both. What have we now to pray for, but a continuance of this perfection of Happineſs? Whereby muſt inevitably enſue, the Improvements of our Lands; the encreaſe of our People, the flouriſhing of all Arts and Sciences amongſt us, and more eſpecially of that Political Learning, ſo neceſſary to preſerve us from the attacks of our Foreign Enemies, whether of the French and Indians on the one ſide, or the Pirates and Algerines on the other. Forgive, Dear Ned, theſe Ejaculations, which are but the overflowings of an Heart full of Gratitude towards ſuch Benefactors, which by carrying me beyond the Bounds of a Letter, have prevented me for the preſent from relating to you ſome of the Proceedings of this remarkable Court; But I hope another Opportunity will make amends: In the mean time, I aſſure you, that, I am,

Your affectionate Friend, and Humble Servant, A. B.

LONDON, July 5.

THE Regiment of Foot commanded by Brigadier-General Anſtruther, in Garriſon at Gibraltar, is ordered to be ſent from thence to Georgia.

They write from Florence, that the Pope judging the Fraternity of the Free-Maſons to be highly deſerving of the Eccleſiaſtical Cenſures, his Holineſs has iſſued out a Bull of Excommunication againſt that Society, the Subſtance of which is as follows:

' In the midſt of the Cares of the Apoſtle-
' ſhip, and the continued Attention we have to
' extirpate Hereſies, and maintain the Lord's
' Vineyard in all its Purity; we have heard with
' Grief and Bitterneſs of Soul, that a certain Socie-
' ty, who ſtile themſelves the Fraternity of Free-
' Maſons, after making Progreſs in ſeveral States
' in Europe, have likewiſe ſpread into Italy, and
' even had ſome Increaſe, We have conſidered
' that the impenetrable Secret of this ſo myſte-
' rious Society is the eſſential Part, and as it were
' the Baſis of its Inſtitution; and that being
' thereby become ſuſpicious to the Temporal
' Powers, ſeveral of them have proſcribed it in
' their Dominions, We have likewiſe conſider'd
' that by much ſtronger Reaſons it ought to be
' ſuſpicious to the Spiritual Power, whoſe Charge
' it is to have an ever-watchful Eye to every ' Thing that may concern the Salvation of Souls.
' For theſe Reaſons, and animated by our Paſto-
' ral Care, we have condemn'd, and do condemn
' by the preſent Bull, the Societies of Free-Maſons,
' as perverſe, contrary to publick Order, and
' having

having incurr'd the Major Excommunication in its utmoſt Extent, forbidding all Perſons, of what Rank, Quality, or Condition ſoever, who profeſs the Catholick, Apoſtolick, and Roman Religion, to cauſe themſelves to be written down or received into that Society, to frequent any of its Members, or hold Correſpondence with them, or to ſuffer or tolerate any Aſſemblies of Free-Maſons in their Houſes, under Penalty to the Contraveners of incurring likewiſe the ſaid Exommunication; reſerving to ourſelves alone the Right of taking it off, except in Caſe of Death, &c.

Given at Rome, May 29. 1738.

July 27. The Lords of the Admiralty have ſat twice every Day this Week, and frequent Meſſengers were ſent thence to the Secretary of State's Office, and to Kenſington. Next Wedneſday an Experiment is to be taken at Woolwich before the proper Officers, of the Mortars to be made uſe of, on board the Ketches that are to join Admiral Haddock's Squadron.

The 14 Men of War that were put into Commiſſion Yeſterday, are all of them from 50 to 70 Gun Ships, & the Lieutetenants, Gunners, Boatſwains, and other Officers thereunto belonging were appointed at the ſame Time. Commodore Matthews is appointed to command a Squadron of 12 Men of War deſign'd for the Spaniſh Weſt-Indies.

There are now 86 Men of War in Commiſſion.

Yeſterday there was a Rumour upon the Exchange, that Gibraltar was actually inveſted with 20,000 Men; and that a ſmall Skirmiſh had happened between the Garriſon and the Spaniards; but we can give no Credit thereto.

The Rulers of the Company of Watermen have received Orders from above to ſupply the Government in 20 Days with 1000 able Seamen.

We hear that Orders have been ſent to all the Lords Lieutenants of Counties, for impreſſing Men for the Sea-Service in their reſpective Provinces.

Yeſterday it was talk'd in the City, that an Embargo would be laid on the Shipping, in order to tranſport ſome Troops to the Mediterranean. It is impoſſible to expreſs the Joy which appeared among the Generality of People on Thurſday, on the Hopes of a War with the Spaniards, to revenge the Robberies, Murders and Inſults committed on the Britiſh Subjects for Years paſt.

Dublin, Aug. 5. Three Ships are here taking in Proviſions to ſail with the Soldiers order'd for Gibraltar.

Boſton Octob. 2. Laſt Tueſday Evening arrived here Capt. Cowley in a Ship from Antigua, who had about a Months Paſſage, by whom are informed, That the ſmall Pox, and a Fever which had prov'd very mortal, were both entirely ceas'd in that Iſland; That in the Month of July they had ſuch exceſſive Rains, as that their Crops were greatly damag'd thereby; ſo that but few Veſſels were like to get Freights. That on or about the 7th of Auguſt paſt, they had a very ſevere Storm or Hurricane, which had done conſiderable Damage among the Shipping, and particularly that a Ship belonging to Piſcataqua, Capt. Papoone Commander, being full freighted with 400 Hogſheads of Sugar, and juſt ready to ſail, was drove ashore from her Anchors and ſtove in Pieces, and all the Cargo, except about 50 Hogſheads, loſt. That after the Storm was over, they were informed by ſome Veſſels which arrived there, That ſeveral Wrecks both of Ships and Sloops were ſeen floating upon the Seas; and 'twas feared that vaſt Damage was done by the ſame Storm in moſt of the Leward Iſlands, eſpecially thoſe to the Northward of Antigua, where it ſeem'd to be moſt violent.
